As it is not provided anywhere that once the acknowledgement is issued, the declaration shall be construed as accepted. It is merely an intimation received from department that it has received the declaration.

4. Range officer had written a letter to submit a balance sheet and profit and loss account on 01-10-2009 which is submitted by assessee on 10-10-2009. This letter of range officer did not mention any section or rule under which such letter was issued seeking balance sheets and profit and loss account. Thereafter there is no communication from the range officer or any other officer of the service tax department. If the assessee wants to file a declaration under VCES can it be accepted?

- Yes, the declaration shall be accepted. According to Circular No. 169/4/2013-ST dated 13.05.2013 Section 106 (2) (a)(iii) of Finance Act, 2013 provides for rejection of declaration if such declaration is made by a person against whom an inquiry or investigation in respect of service tax not levied or not paid or short levied or short- paid has been initiated by way of requiring production of accounts, documents or other evidence under the chapter or the rules made thereunder and such inquiry or investigation is pending as on the 1st day of March, 2013. No other communication from the department would attract provisions of section 106(2)(a)(iii) and thus would not lead to rejection of the declaration.,

- Sub rule (2) of Rule 6 of Service Tax Voluntary Compliance Encouragement Rules, 2013 prohibits the utilization of CENVAT credit for payment of tax dues under the Scheme.

- Yes,
- As per the definition of “tax dues” provided under the scheme, tax due means the Service Tax due or payable under the chapter or any other amount due or payable under Section 73A. Further, it is pertinent to mention here that service tax due/payable shall be determined after claiming the CENVAT Credit as available with the assessee for the period for which the declaration has been made. Therefore, while making the declaration you can adjust the CENVAT credit as available with the assessee for the relevant period.
- Further, CENVAT Credit for that period, if had been expensed off by the Assessee, the same may also be corrected by the assessee.

7. A proprietorship concern wrongly taken the CENVAT credit of Rs. 5 lacs in 2010 and filed the service tax return accordingly. Now, if it wants to declare and pay the same under VCES – can it do so?

- As per Amnesty Scheme, following persons can take the benefit of this scheme-
 - Stop filers
 - Non Filers
 - Non registrant
 - Service provider who have not disclosed true liability in the returns filed by them.

In the instant case, assessee has not shown the service tax liability correctly as assessee has wrongly utilized the CENVAT not available to him. Thus, this clearly amounts to not disclosing true service tax liability and accordingly assessee can avail the aforestated scheme.

ABC Ltd. is providing services from each office and such offices are separately registered with respective service tax range. Further, it has received a show -cause notice dated 25-02-2013 in respect of some alleged short payment of service tax for Ahmadabad office but has not received any such notice or any communication for Rajkot or Jamnagar offices. Can Rajkot and Jamnagar branch take benefit under VCES for any tax dues relating to those places?

- No, Rajkot and Jamna Nagar Branch cannot take the benefit of the scheme. Under service tax the registration is PAN based i.e. PAN no. of the person is followed by the service tax code. Even if the branches of an entity are registered separately, the person shall remain the same and the branches will be considered as inter-linked. Therefore, even if the default is made by one branch the person shall be debarred from taking the benefit of this scheme.

- No, the person is not eligible for the scheme. However, according to third proviso [inserted vide Notification No. 4/2008 dated 01.03.2008 with effect from 01.03.2008] to Rule 7C of Service Tax Rules, 1994 where the gross amount of service tax payable is nil, the Central Excise Office may, on being satisfied that there is sufficient reason for not filing the return, reduce or waive the penalty. Therefore by foregoing proviso to Rule 7C, the assessee can save himself.

10. Audit of the assessee was conducted on 27-28 February, 2013 and NIL audit report dated 05-03-2013 is issued to this assessee. This assessee wants to pay service tax for the period 01-04-2008 to 31-12-2012 which was not paid by it and the audit party could not unearth such non-payment or short payment of service tax. Can this assessee get benefit of VCES?

- No, the assessee shall not get the benefit under the scheme. As per the provisions of Section 106(2) of the Act, if an audit of a particular assessee is initiated and the same is pending as on 01.03.2013, then declaration filed by such assessee shall be rejected. As a result,, in the instant case, as the audit was not concluded as on 01.03.2013 (audit report was pending), assessee shall not be eligible to avail the benefit of the scheme.
- As assessee is not eligible to avail the scheme, therefore it is advisable to pay service tax along with interest and file intimation under Section 73(3) of Finance Act, 1994. Consequently, no show cause notice can be issued to the assessee in respect of the same.

- Rule 3(5), Rule 3(5A) and Rule 6(3) is having no nexus with the VCES. Tax dues have been specifically defined in the scheme.

12. If some amount is paid in excess under this scheme then as per Sec 109 of the Finance Act, 2013 any amount paid in pursuance of a declaration made shall not be refundable. Can the amount paid in excess be adjusted against the future liability?

- In terms of Article 265 of Constitution, of India no taxes shall be collected except by authority of law. Thus, it is clear that amount paid in excess in pursuance of the scheme due to some technological error can be adjusted. For example, if a declarant has declared service tax amounting to Rs. 110. However, due to some technological error, declarant has paid service tax amounting to Rs. 1100. In the instant case, the same shall be adjusted against its future liability.

13.If a person has tax dues for the period 01-10-2007 to 31-12-2012 but he declares tax dues only for the period 01-10-2008 to 31-12-2012 by a declaration dated 26-10-2013. Since the period of five years from relevant date for demand for period up to 30-09-2008 is over on 25-10-2013, he did not declare or pay any service tax for the period 01-10-2007 to 30-09-2008. Can his declaration be treated as substantially false and can recovery be made by commissioner in terms of powers conferred by section 111 of the Finance Act, 2013?

- At the outset, we would like to advert to definition of Tax due as provided under Section 105(1)(e) of Finance Act, 2013. The same is reproduced as under:

“(e) “tax dues” means the service tax due or payable under the Chapter or any other amount due or payable under section 73A thereof, for the period beginning from the 1st day of October, 2007 and ending on the 31st day of December, 2012 including a cess leviable thereon under any other Act for the time being in force, but not paid as on the 1st day of March, 2013.”

As per aforestated definition tax due means service tax payable or due under the chapter or any other amount due or payable under Section 73 A of the Act.

Payment under the Chapter

As per the provisions of the chapter contained in the Finance Act, show cause notice for recovery of service tax due or payable can be issued upto 5 years by virtue of Section 73 of the Act. In other words, as on 10.05.2013, service tax payable for the period 01.10.2007 to 31.03.2008 can not be recovered or demanded from the assessee. Thus, the same is not due or payable by the assessee thereby not falling under the definition of “tax dues” as reproduced above. In view of above, it can be easily inferred that tax due for the period 01.10.2007 to 31.3.2008 need not be declared under aforestated declaration.

However, service tax due or payable for the period 01.04.2008 to 30.09.2008 should be declared. If tax dues for such period are not declared, Commissioner might reject such declaration on account of declaration being substantially false in pursuance of Section 111(1) of Finance Act, 2013.

Any amount payable or due under Section 73A of the Finance Act, 1994

Further, as per the provisions of the Section 73A of the Act, Show Cause Notice for the recovery of tax due can be issued for any period. In other words, as on 10.05.2013, service tax due or payable for any period can be recovered from the assessee. Thus, entire tax dues for the period 01.10.2007 to 31.12.2012 shall constitute the “tax dues” as reproduced above. Thus, assessee needs to declare the tax dues for the entire period starting from 01.10.2007 to 31.12.2012.
